NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Strong Chiropractic Inc. We've got your back!

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Visions Of Sugar Plums

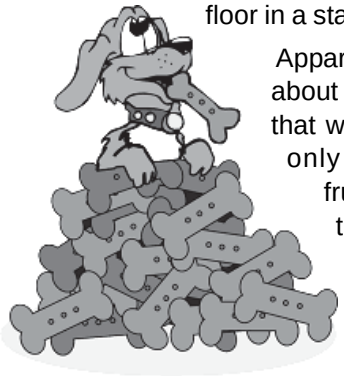
Food has always played a big role in my Cape Breton Christmas. The baking starts at the beginning of December and many families also visit the various craft fairs and church bake sales to get special Christmas treats.

My mother and grandmother would work like the Kiebler elves baking all kinds of cookies, squares, tarts and various loaves and fruitcake. The smells in the house when you came home from school were heavenly. My mother would have a few mini treats for us so that we wouldn't pick at the cookies and squares.

We were allowed to decorate the sugar cookies and shortbread cookies with various colored icing and sprinkles. We accepted this honor with a great deal of importance because if we weren't doing it right, my grandmother would banish us from the kitchen.

Every year we looked forward to the frenzied baking and when we went to sleep we could still smell the delicious aromas from the various baked items. After one all day baking binge, my mother and grandmother had over 15 dozen cookies and squares and several loaves and three fruitcakes. They were left out overnight to cool before being packed away for Christmas.

I remember waking up to my grandmother's loud voice and wondered what was going on as my grandmother, born in Cheticamp, was never known to raise her voice unnecessarily. I knew there was trouble when I heard her speaking in agitated French. I could only imagine what various incantations or curses were being hurled on our two dogs who were lying on the kitchen floor in a state of stupor.



Apparently, the two dogs sampled just about every batch of cookies and those that weren't eaten were crumbled. The only thing left untouched was the fruitcakes and I could only imagine that even a starving dog would not have eaten them. My mother joined the chorus scolding the dogs and they did not move an inch.

Later, after they cooled down a little, my mother and grandmother called the vet and he said to bring the dogs over to see if they would have to have their stomachs pumped. I don't know what the vet did for them but the bill was $45.00 and this was in 1964 so it was considered a lot of money for a mere dog.

I thought our Christmas would be ruined but as the neighbours heard the story, they began sending over a dozen cookies and shortbreads and by Christmas Eve we had the original 15 dozen all donated by sympathetic neighbours.

Christmas was its usual interlude of food, fun and fruitcake. Every time the two dogs came within ten feet of my Grandmother she would let loose with a French phrase. I don't know if the dogs understood French or not but they avoided her. I guess it worked because I can't remember them ever eating the Christmas goodies again.

Makes A Great Christmas Gift

PREPARING FOR THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Sydney Mines are sure a busy group of people these days. As the Season of Christmas quickly approaches the St. Andrew's elves are decorating the beautiful sanctuary with bright red bows, green garland and a green Christmas tree trimmed with white Christmas lights and red bows. This tradition was first begun by the St. Andrew's Choir members and recently members of the congregation have pitched in to help as well. The tastefully decorated sanctuary adds so much to the Christmas celebrations and will also serve as a wintery background for their upcoming Christmas Concert, The Miners' First Noel.

The Miners' First Noel concert was started a few years back when Bob Quinn came up with the idea that he and a few close friends do a Christmas concert at St. Andrew's to celebrate music and song in the good old town of Sydney Mines. Bob along with Kevin Evans fell in love not only with St. Andrew's church but the people of Sydney Mines as well. Quinn thought St. Andrew's would be the perfect setting to perform a Christmas concert for the community and so began the Miners First Noel. The song "The Miners' First Noel" is a song which Quinn himself wrote especially for the very first concert and The Barra MacNeil's have since recorded this lively tune on their Christmas album and it's becoming very popular during the Christmas season.

"We are thrilled to have The Miners First Noel back at St. Andrew's this year" quoted Rita Johnston, Stewardship Committee Chairperson.This year it will be held on Friday, December 29th at 7:00 p.m. with Kevin Evans, Bob Quinn, Cameron and MacKenzie Clarke, Jennifer Whalen, Stewart MacNeil and Lucy MacNeil and Lucy's two daughters. "Also for the first time, we are going to get a sneak preview of the next generation of the MacNeil Family when we see Kenna and Ameila (Lucy's daughters) perform with their mom" Johnston added. This will be one show you won't want to miss.

"This is a concert for the whole family, young and old and what a great Christmas gift this would make for that someone who enjoys music and song". Johnston added that she is getting phone calls from people out of town wanting to reserve tickets for Christmas Gifts for loved ones. "People think it's a wonderful idea and a great community event where people come together to celebrate the Christmas season". Tickets are on sale now but going quickly, so pick yours up today at Sexton's Pharmasave in Sydney Mines and Shoppers Drug Mart in North Sydney or you can reserve them by calling 902-736-2508.

Why not give the gift of music this year.

THANK YOU - GENERATOR

We are getting closer to our goal of $12,000 for the generator at the BIg Bras d'Or Fire Hall.

And it couldn't have been possible without your generosity. So, we are sending out this heartfelt Thank You to each and every one of you who helped get us this far.

It is providing a lot of people with peace of mind should we lose power for any length of time. And for anyone wanting to help us reach that goal, you can mail a cheque to Mike MacDonald, 34 Lakeview Dr., Big Bras d'Or, B1X 1Z1. Make cheque out to "Fiends of the Big Bras d'Or Fire Hall."

Well, Christmas isn't far away, but not everyone enjoys this time of year-and some actually hate Christmas time. It's hard to be joyful if you've lost a loved one, may be sick, down on your luck or just hate the perverse and crass commercialization that has hijacked what is supposed to be a holy time of the year. Heck, even the modern Santa Claus as we know him was created by Coca Cola in the 1930's and White Rock Beverages in the early 1900's to sell their pop.

So, rather than finding a new Christmas album to write about (and let's be honest-most are just quick money grabs by the artists, rarely featuring songs that are going to become Christmas classics in the future) I thought it was high time to look at having a Merry HexMas-ala Krampus.

As near as we can tell the ancient legend of Krampus predates Christianity, and in Europe he was represented as a half-goat, half-demon creature who punished bad children at Christmastime-like an anti-Santa. In Germany and Austria it's believed that pagan elements were combined with Christian elements, and that Krampus was comparable to the Christian devil.

To that end, two recent movies come to mind, devilishly delightful Christmas horrors about that unholy beast; 2015's "Krampus" is a very well-done flick that features actors Toni Collette, Adam Scott and David Koechner, with Emjay Anthony as a young boy who turns his back on Christmas-thanks to his dysfunctional family, thereby conjuring up Krampus as the beast punishes the non-believers. Trustworthy and loved holiday icons take on an evil life of their own, attacking the household and forcing the extended family to join forces and fight if they want to survive. The Krampus make-up here is amazing.

The other nasty yuletide eye-treat is 2015's "A Christmas Horror Story" which has William Shatner playing radio host "Dangerous Dan" doing his Christmas Eve show, while getting plastred in the process. The movie is actually an anthology of stories, featuring Santa Claus fighting off zombies (all the current rage-right?), a group of teenagers invest-igating a haunted site of a murder, a married couple's son who gets replaced by a 'changeling' and a greedy family who has an encounter with our old friend Krampus (great make-up job on this beast too).

As scary as these movies are-they pale in comparison to the news clips of Black Friday and Boxing Day sales madness! So if you need a break from the holiday-mania, shake those "slay bells", pour yourself a glass of eggnogg and cosy up under a blanket to get your wits scared out with these Christmas nasties. They're almost as scary as January's Visa bills!
