NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Since 1818 when Mary Shelley's "Frankenstein" novel was first published the monster commonly known as Frankenstein (or Dr. Frankenstein's monster) has been a big part of horror creature royalty. I really liked the first movie to feature him, and to me most of the early cinematic efforts portraying this often misunderstood 'freak of nature', or 'abomination' (as some would see him) are the best. To that end there are 2 recent movie releases that are the polar opposite of each other; "Lisa Frankenstein" is a light-hearted romantic comedy/horror story about a teenage goth girl who falls in love with a reanimated Victorian era corpse. What develops is kind of what "Pretty in Pink" might be like if Tim Burton directed it, with a little dash of campy horror thrown in for good (or bad?) measure. It's cute, quirky, odd and entertaining, but it does take a different path towards the end-which I shall not divulge here. The polar opposite of this movie would be "Pretty Things", a very dark comedy starring Willem Dafoe as an eccentric surgeon with the face of...well ...Frankenstein, and Emma Stone as a creation of the madman. This is Emma Stone as you have never seen her before (literally!) in a role that starts with baby steps (no spoiler intended) and develops into something that almost defies description. This movie is very twisted, dark, forceful and very engaging. However, it is definitely not something for everyone, especially younger viewers. The story takes place in what has been described as a 'steampunk wonderland', and is indeed visually stunning and mesmerizing. This one is more faithful to the Frankenstein mystique-but finds a way to tell the tale like no one else ever has. Enjoy!

TAX TIPS & VALUABLE DEDUCTIONS

Are you receiving emails insisting you click on a link? Text messages promising a benefit payment or refund? Phone calls threatening to send the police if you don't pay up? Not only are all of these really annoying, they are all signs of scams!

Scammers continue to pose as the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) and other government departments and agencies, to trick you into giving them money or personal information. Unfortunately, they're still having some success. The amount of money that people have lost to scams and fraud has increased over the years.

So what can we do? - The two most important things individuals have in defence of scams are awareness and time. Knowing what to expect when the CRA contacts you can help you tell the difference between real communications from the CRA and scams.

Scammers will try to pressure you and get you to act quickly. Why? Because the more time you have to think about what you're being asked to do, and the more time you have to go to official Canada.ca web pages to check if it's legitimate, the more likely you are to recognize it as a scam. The CRA scam alerts page can help you stay up-to-date and avoid the latest scams that may target you.

Remember – when it comes to scams, time is on your side! Take a minute to think about the text, email, letter, or phone call you received. What are you being asked to do? Does it seem unusual, or too good to be true? Are you being pressured with aggressive language or threats?

If you are unsure and want to confirm if a message is from the CRA, please contact us: In the provinces - individuals:

1-800-959-8281 - Businesses: 1-800-959-5525

If it turns out to be a scam, you can report it through the options on the Scams and fraud page, which also includes additional tips and helpful information.

By staying informed, you can avoid scams, and can proudly say - not today, scammer... not any day!

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

This good piece of advice was often uttered to me and my brother through the years and we tried to heed it whenever possible.

But his next incident occurred at Gillis Lake one bright Summer evening. My father liked to fish trout and we had a 12 foot aluminum boat that he usually took out each night.

I went down at nightfall each evening to give him a hand to drag the boat onto shore to tie it to a tree. He had caught a few trout and was rowing back in to shore to tie up the boat. He started to pick up his fish and some gear and started to untangle a knot he had in his fishing line.

He always brought the boat in backwards to make it easier to tie up to the tree. On this night, there was a slight breeze and when the boat grounded, it started to drift out from shore. My father finally got the knot out and stepped out the side of the boat assuming he was still near the shore. Down he went into six feet of water spluttering and splashing and cursing like a sailor. He dropped the tackle box in the water and lost a lot of lures and hooks. I thought of the "Look before you leap" phrase but was wise enough not to say it. On the plus side I learned quite a few new curse words.

WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

ARIES (MARCH 21-APRIL 19) - This is a powerful day for you because the Sun is in your sign. However, Mercury retrograde is also in your sign, which means you're dealing with old business plus, ex partners and old friends. Fortunately, Venus, in your sign as well, guarantees that you'll be smooth and charming with everyone.-

TAURUS (APRIL 20-MAY 20) - You can get a tremendous amount done today, especially if you're working with others - teams, clubs and organizations. Someone older might give you advice or assistance.

GEMINI (MAY 21-JUNE 20) - You will get a lot done today because you are motivated. Your ambition is aroused and fortunately, your follow-through energy is right there as well. Whatever you do will impress bosses and authority figures. Share your goals for the future with someone else to get their feedback.

CANCER (JUNE 21-JULY 22) - Believe it or not, this is one of the most productive days of the year! You can get a lot done because you look good to bosses, parents, VIPs and even the police.

LEO (JULY 23-AUG. 22) - Your focus might be on publishing, legal matters, medicine or travel plans today; nevertheless, you have a strong driving energy to clear up loose details about insurance issues, inheritances and shared property. Get as much done as possible today because the gods are with you.

VIRGO (AUG. 23-SEPT. 22) - This is an extremely productive day, one of the best days to get things done in the entire year. However, you might encounter opposition from a partner or close friend. The secret is to harness that energy and work for a win-win solution. Is this possible?

LIBRA (SEPT. 23-OCT. 22) - You will get an enormous amount of work done today because planetary vibes can make this one of the most productive days of the year for you. You're keen to work and get results! Appeal to others, especially experts for support. Renegotiate old business.

SCORPIO (OCT. 23-NOV. 21) - Those of you in the performing arts or in sports can make great strides today because this is a fantastic day to practice and hone your technique. Meanwhile, every Scorpio can be productive today, especially finishing old business and wrapping up stuff that needs to get done.

SAGITTARIUS (NOV. 22-DEC. 21) - Despite your desire to enjoy fun times, including vacations, today you can make major headway with domestic improvements. Buckle down and get stuff done that will make a difference.

CAPRICORN (DEC. 22-JAN. 19) - Family and domestic issues will go well today, especially if you're finishing home repairs or redecorating projects. You are proactive and convincing, which is why others will listen to you today. Count on getting a lot done! (This will please you.)

AQUARIUS (JAN. 20-FEB. 18) - You'll be pleased at how productive you can be today, especially because your communications with others will get the results you want. Be firm about financial issues and financial arrangements. Ask for what you expect to get. Today your hard work will pay off!

PISCES (FEB. 19-MARCH 20) - Today has the potential to be one of the most productive days of the year for you because fiery Mars in your sign is lined up with stern Saturn. In a word - you mean business! Financial discussions will go well. This is an excellent time to rethink financial deals. Do get out of bed.
