NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

EAGLES HOCKEY JERSEY DESIGN WINNER

Julian hails from Glace Bay and is a Centre Scholaire E'toile l'Acadie student. He has been drawing and designing from an early age and his talents have paid off with the winning design.

Julian will drop the ceremonial puck at the Eagles game and he also will get an autographed jersey signed by all the Eagles players. Julian is also our grandson and Joan and I are extremely proud of his achievement.

Take 2
PAUL POWER

There are countless hidden gems in the movie universe, such as 'A Sound of Thunder'. Some people think it's weird to re-watch movies but since this film's release in 2005 I have watched it probably 6 times; it's one heck of a good Science Fiction tale. The movie did fail big time at the box office, recouping only about a third of it's cost, and critics were cruel-but what do they know-right? The story is set in the year 2055 at a corporation that sells a tourist experience of going back to a prehistoric time and kill a dinosaur (who was only moments away from dying of natural causes anyway) so as to not affect the timeline to the future. Nothing, not even a particle of dirt, can be brought back. That's where the chaos starts to unfold. It's the Chaos Theory meets the Butterfly Effect rolled up into one big cluster F. The film stars Edward Burns, Sir Ben Kingsley and Catherine McCormack and was co-produced by U.K., U.S., German and Czech Republic involvement-giving it a somewhat unique look. The film was originally set to be shot in Montreal, with Pierce Brosnan in the lead role, but a rewrite request derailed it-and with the Hollywood writers and actors strike looming in 2001 that plan was nixed. Then Canadian producer Nicholas Claremont passed away, and Brosnan dropped too. The film did get finished but during post-production Franchise Pictures went bankrupt, so last minute FX took a pay cut and the film barely got completed. Once again, I thoroughly enjoyed this movie for being just what it is-a great science fiction tale showing how greed can warp, twist and manipulate something which at first seems pure and noble-but turns into a Frankenstein's monster. Sounds familiar and relevant in today's world.

Only The Shadow Knows

K-LEE RADIO has made available one of the all time favorite Old Time Radio serials available to you as a free podcast. "The Shadow" - One of the most popular radio shows in history, went on the air in August of 1930.

"Who knows what evil lurks in the hearts of men? The Shadow knows!" The opening lines of the "Detective Story" program captivated listeners and are instantly recognizable even today. Originally the narrator of the series of macabre tales, the eerie voice known as The Shadow became so popular to listeners that "Detective Story" was soon renamed "The Shadow," and the narrator became the star of the old-time radio series, which ran until 1954.

Agnes Moorehead, the first Margot Lane, a figure never seen, only heard, the Shadow was an invincible crime fighter. He possessed many gifts which enabled him to overcome any enemy. Besides his tremendous strength, he could defy gravity, speak any language, unravel any code, and become invisible with his famous ability to "cloud men's minds." The show you will hear was originally broadcast in 1940. Logon to their website - www.kleeradio.com and click on the "DOWNLOADS" page for your free copy.

GIG WORKERS TAX INFORMATION

Below are some tax deductions that H&R Block's Tax Experts can help you maximize your return this year:

H&R Block research indicates significant portion of gig workers could be exposed to risks by not declaring all income. Key Considerations Around Bill C-47 for Canadian Gig Workers:

Bill C-47 involves amendments to Canada's Income Tax Act around 'mandatory disclosure rules': This includes what needs to be reported to the CRA, and requires gig platform operators (such as Uber, Lyft, Airbnb, Vrbo, Etsy, eBay, Poshmark, etc.) to collect and report identifying information about Canadians who use their platforms and the income they earn.

New gig worker information reporting requirements: Gig platforms must collect and report information for every Canadian that uses the platform and share it with the CRA, including: full name, date of birth, primary address, tax identification number or TIN (for most Canadians, their authorized tax identification number is their 9-digit social insurance number (SIN), issued by Service Canada).

New financial disclosure requirements: Platform operators must report their own financial transactions and collect information on revenues earned by Canadians who use their platforms based in Canada.

Platform operators are required to give their gig worker users a copy of the information they provide to the CRA: This ensures gig workers are aware of what is being sent on their behalf. It's important this information aligns with the user's own records and matches what they report at tax time.

Mandatory electronic filing: The new bill also includes several administrative changes that require taxpayers to use the CRA's electronic services rather than sending information manually. Certain tax filings and payments must be done electronically, for example for payments over $10,000 and if you are filing five or more T4 slips.

January 31 deadline: Platform operators must file an information return with the CRA, containing the required information relating to their users, no later than January 31 of the year following the calendar year in which any Canadian is identified as a reportable user of the platform.

Noncompliance with Bill C-47 can result in significant financial penalties: By not reporting all their income, Canadians risk facing significant penalties and interest on top of any amount owed.

"Maintaining meticulous records is imperative for gig workers to track your income closely and ensure that what the platform operator reports to the CRA aligns with your own records, noting all related expenses."

 FEELINGS **

Bernadette, if I were to put in writing feelings I have for you,
I couldn't think of a single word, stymied I'd be, Tis true.
So back in time would I travel searching out poet's of yore, borrow from them a line or two dilemma solved I'm sure.

From Robbie I'd borrow a humorous line,

Keats a line of compassion,
Wordsworth a line of Intellect,
Kilmer a line I'm sure would fit.

These lines so befitting directed to you my dear, strait from the hearts of poet's poets of yesteryear.
Now I have related in verse feelings I have for you
Thank the bards of yesteryear for painting a picture so true.

Ron Gillis - NORTH SYDNEY
