NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Volunteer Receives Prestigious Award

Lawrence Shebib, Executive Director of the North Sydney Food Bank, has received the prestigious King Charles III Coronation Medal for his community service.

Shebib's volunteer service extends over a 51 year period and along with the Food Bank, he also is involved with a current project to turn an abandoned school into community housing for seniors.

PAUL POWER

It's fair to say that for the longest time Pamela Anderson was considered the poster girl for "the bubble-headed bleach blonde", or should we say 'beach blonde' as her rise to fame came courtesy of the series 'Baywatch' from 1992 to 1997, and she holds the record for the most covers of Playboy magazine. She kept busy doing TV and films after that chapter of her life came to a close but the new movie 'The Last Showgirl' may very well be her crowning glory. The plot focuses on a middle-aged Las Vegas showgirl who now faces an uncertain future as the revue she's performed in for 30 years is scheduled to close. Of course Pamela is the 'past her prime' showgirl Shelly Gardner, joined by Jamie Lee Curtis as Shelly's best friend/cocktail waitress/former showgirl Annette, but the biggest surprise is Eddie, the long-haired producer of the revue-played by Dave Bautista. This is Dave like you've never seen him before and the same and then some can be said for Jamie Lee Curtis's performance. This film peels away the glitz and glamour of Las Vegas, revealing the trials and tribulations of real people facing real problems-exacerbated by a changing entertainment world and Father Time's unkind interference. The producer here is Gia Coppola (the granddaughter of Frances Ford Coppola) and although she's not that well known yet, having directed some films besides this one. This is a gritty looking slice of life on a less than rosy side of the strip that is going to bring Gia accolades and more recognition. Pamela plays a character that, dare I say, is a little bit stupid-but has a heart of gold and sees things through rose-coloured glasses, walking a fine line between optimism and delusion.

OUR MISS BROOKS

Our Miss Brooks was a hit on radio from the outset; within eight months of its launch as a regular series, the show landed several honors, including four for Eve Arden, who won polls in four individual publications of the time.

Arden had actually been the third choice to play the title role. Harry Ackerman, at the time CBS's West Coast director of programming, wanted Shirley Booth for the part, but as he told historian Gerald Nachman many years later, he realized Booth was too focused on the underpaid downside of public school teaching at the time to have fun with the role.

Lucille Ball was believed to have been the next choice, but she was committed to My Favorite Husband and did not audition. CBS then-chairman Bill Paley, who was friendly with Arden, persuaded her to audition for the part. With a slightly rewritten audition script—Osgood Conklin, for example, was originally written as a school board president, but was now written as the incoming new Madison principal—Arden agreed to give the newly revamped show a try.

Produced by Larry Berns and written by director Al Lewis, Our Miss Brooks premiered on CBS on July 19, 1948. This episode is called "The Cow In The Closet". Get your free copy of the Podcast at - www.kleeradio.com - click on the DOWNLOADS PAGE

WEEKLY SMILE

Yester day I was at Costco buying a large bag of Purina dog chow for my loyal pet, Necco the Wonder Dog, who weighs 191 lbs. I was in the check-out line when a woman behind me asked if I had a dog. What did she think, I had an elephant?

So because I'm retired and have little to do, on impulse I told her that no, I didn't have a dog; I was starting the Purina Diet again. I added that I probably shouldn't because I ended up in the hospital last time, but that I'd lost 50 pounds before I awakened in an intensive care ward with tubes coming out of most of my orifices and IVs in both arms.

I told her that it was essentially a perfect diet and that the way that it works is to load your jacket pockets with Purina Nuggets and simply eat one or two every time you feel hungry. The food is nutritionally complete so it works well and I was going to try it again.

(I have to mention here that practically everyone in line was now enthralled with my story.)

Horrified, she asked if I ended up in intensive care, because the dog food poisoned me. I told her no, I stopped to pee on a fire hydrant and a car hit me. I thought the guy behind her was going to have a heart attack he was laughing so hard.

TAX TIPS FOR SENIORS

Below are some tax deductions that H&R Block's Tax Experts can help you maximize your return this year:

This tax season, the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) wants to help you get all the benefit and credit payments that could put money in your pocket.

Filing and payment deadlines - For most individuals, the deadline to file your income tax and benefit return is April 30, 2025. You can get ahead by filing your return online starting February 24, 2025. If you or your spouse/common-law partner are self-employed, the deadline to file is generally June 15, 2025. Since that date falls on a Sunday, your return will be considered filed on time if the CRA receives it or it is postmarked on or before June 16, 2025. Any payment you owe the CRA is due on April 30, 2025, no matter when you are required to file.

Benefit and credit payments you can get

When you file your tax return, you may be eligible for various benefits and credits, like the:

GST/HST credit - A tax-free quarterly payment for people with low and modest incomes, which may include a related provincial or territorial credit amount.

Guaranteed Income Supplement - A tax-free monthly benefit for Old Age Security pension recipients who have low income and are living in Canada.

Canada caregiver credit - A non-refundable tax credit that may be available to individuals who support a spouse or common-law partner, or a dependent with a physical or mental impairment.

Are you living in a province where the Canada Carbon Rebate (CCR) is available? To get the first CCR payment on April 15, 2025, file your tax return online by March 24, 2025. If you file later, generally, you can expect your CCR payment six to eight weeks after we assess your tax return.

LYou may also be able to take advantage of pension income splitting to split your eligible pension income with your spouse or common-law partner to reduce any income tax you owe.

Registered Retirement Saving Plan contributions - If you have a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP), remember that although the deadline to contribute for the 2024 tax year is March 1, 2025, RRSP contributions can be made between March 1, 2024, and March 3, 2025, and can be deducted on your 2024 tax return.

Renovating to share a home with your family - If you're renovating to share a home with family, you may qualify for the Multi-generational Home Renovation Tax Credit (MHRTC). You could claim up to $7,500 for eligible renovation costs to add a secondary unit for a senior or an adult with a disability. Learn more about the MHRTC.

THE TASTY SANDWICHES

My mother's sister Lil lived in New Waterford and my mother went to visit her about once a month. We didn't have a car so we took the bus and this was always a little treat as my mother took a small sandwich or cookies to keep me quiet.

On this particular day, we sat down to a lunch of sandwiches and lemonade. My mother remarked on the tasty sandwiches. Besides Lil and her husband, Lil's brother Frank lived with them.

I loved going to visit because Frank had three hound dogs he used for rabbit hunting and I got to play with them.

Frank was cleaning up the dog dish when Lil said, "You didn't use all that big can of dog food did you Frank?" Well, I used half a can to feed the dogs and the other half to make the sandwiches."

I saw my mother turn white. I thought for a moment and figured that if it didn't hurt the dogs, it wasn't going to hurt me any,

After that visit, my mother made sure that Frank didn't prepare any of the lunches. "Oh, the saints preserve us," she muttered.
