NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

NO HEAVY GARBAGE COLLECTION THIS YEAR

There will be no Heavy garbage Collection this year in the CBRM.

Instead, the CBRM is launching a new Program "Call To Haul." Starting May 1st, residents will be able to call 311 to schedule pickup up to 5 large bulk waste items.

Once registered, residents will receive a pickup date and instructions on how to place your items at the curb.

Please do not place items at the curb until you have a scheduled appointment.

Residents can use the program multiple times throughout the year but only 5 items will be collected at a time to ensure a fair access for all residents.

More updates, including a full list of what items can be collected, will be shared close to launch.

Take 2
PAUL POWER

So....if you're looking for a good movie to watch-one with a bit of a kick to it then the new movie 'Send Help' would be right up your alley. It stars the wonderfully talented Canadian actor Rachel McAdams ('Mean Girls', 'The Notebook', 'Doctor Strange' and many more) as Linda Liddle, a socially awkward, meek and unappreciated corporate strategist who does brilliant work that gets hijacked by a preppy office monster who just happens to be her new bosses' frat brother. The boss (Bradley Preston) is played to perfection by Dylan O'Brien. When Linda confronts him over her being sidelined Bradley is impressed by her boldness and invites her to accompany him and three other executives on a business trip to Bangkok to finalize a company merger. On the plane one of the executives humiliates Linda by playing an audition tape she made for the TV series 'Survivor' as she showed her survival skills. When the plane passes through a storm it causes engine failure and a huge drop in altitude-leading to 3 selfish jerks trying to throw Linda under the bus-per se, and what happens next is insane. Spoiler alert: everyone except Linda and Bradley get sucked out of the aircraft before it crashes into the sea and sinks. Linda escapes, swims to the surface, and clings to floating debris, then to land. At this point it's nice to see when the meek do indeed inherit the earth-even if it is a deserted island. Heads up: there is indeed a bit of gore but it enhances the storyline so nothing is gratuitous. All in all, for those of you who like to believe in karma-or just good old justice then this movie will satisfy those cravings for some real payback, with a bit of humour to boot.

WEEKLY SMILE

It was the bricklayer's first day on the job and he was trying to make a good impression.

He arrived early, loaded all the bricks on the truck, had the plans all ready and told the boss, "This job is a snap. I can do it all by myself!"

The boss, impressed by the confidence said, "Okay, we're a little short handed today so I'll let you start and I'll come by later to see how you're doing."

The young apprentice worked long and hard, didn't even take a break for lunch trying to impress his boss. When the boss showed up he gasped and said, "What the hell are you doing?"

A little annoyed, the apprentice said, "I'm just following the plans! I built the chimney just as it looks here."

"Chimney? What chimney? We were supposed to be building a well!" came the foreman's reply.

TAX TIPS - GIG WORKERS DEDUCTIONS

If you are a GIG worker, there are several tax deductions related to your employment that you may qualify for. See below for a list of some you may not have thought of.

PSYCHIC BUSINESS ADVICE - If you paid a consultant (yes, even a psychic or astrologer) for real business guidance and have an Umbrellas - Work outdoors? Escort clients in and out of cars? Tour homes in the rain? Umbrellas can be a legit deduction for gig workers and certain commission-based pros.

E-BIKES AND SCOOTERS - Delivery workers using them for platforms like Uber Eats or DoorDash may be able to treat them as business assets.

MUSIC SUBSCRIPTIONS - Hairdressers, fitness instructors, and certain performers may be able to deduct commercial streaming services tied directly to their work.

MAKEUP, HAIR EXTENSIONS, BODY GLITTER - For models, actors, performers, or creators whose appearance is part of their brand, specific beauty products may be deductible. (General grooming doesn't count, but job-specific glam might.)

SNOW REMOVAL FOR HOME-BASED BUSINESSES - If clients come to your home office, part of your snow removal costs may be deductible.

GAMING GEAR, DATING APP SUBSCRIPTIONS, BAKING TOOLS, FITNESS EQUIPMENT - If it powers your content — livestreams, reviews, tutorials, or fitness programs — it might be eligible.

CAR CLEANING - RIDESHARE DRIVERS AND PET TRANSPORTERS MAY BE able to deduct detailing, odour removal, and cleaning costs tied to business use.

HOME SECURITY SYSTEMS - If you store work equipment, inventory, or professional gear at home, some security system costs may be deductible.

Celebrating our 17th year of Broadcasting in Cape Breton

ARE WE THERE YET?

My father was a salesman for a wholesaler and travelled all over Cape Breton and Nova Scotia as his territory. He was paid a base salary, commission and travel expenses.

One week he travelled to Antigonish on business and submitted his claim for 125 miles travel allowance. The company manager, a real tightwad, insisted that it was only 100 miles and authorized only that amount.

During the Summer there was an agricultural exhibition in Antigonish and the company owner, the manager and my dad all attended.

They travelled in dad's car to save travelling expenses. Dad asked the manager to note down the mileage before the trip so that he could submit the correct mileage.

Just as he crossed the Causeway he suddenly pulled over and said, "We're here!"

The manager said they had another 25 miles to go and dad said "not according to your mileage allowance."

The manager sheepishly agreed that dad was owed the extra mileage and the trip continued on with not a word said by the embarrassed manager.

TAKING FIRST PRIZE AWARD

Cape Breton is known for its musical talent and many festivals and concerts abound in the Summer. Celtic Colours hosts artists from all over the world every Fall for 8 days.

This story is about a much smaller music festival in Iona. It is held each year to help foster the growth of new musical talent.

My uncle Dave and his friends had a quartet that they called "The Derry Aires" and sang celtic songs. I never thought of the name or its French connotations back then.

They all piled in the car on a Sunday afternoon and headed for Iona, well fortified with Capt. Morgan to help lubricate their throats.

When they arrived home that night, they had a huge trophy sitting in the back seat. They told everybody that they had taken the first prize trophy. Congratulations were handed out all around.

It was only a few years later that I learned they never won anything. I asked him about it and he said, "Well the trophy was just sitting there on the table, so we took it!" Ask a silly question, get a silly answer.
