NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Take 2
PAUL POWER

I absolutely love Gothic horror stories but I was never much of a fan of the whole Dracula saga; admittedly I think "Nosferatu" (1922) is one of the greatest horror movies ever made, and there have been a few wonderful film adaptations such as "The Last Voyage of the Demeter" and 2024's "Nosferatu" with Bill Skarsgard, Willem Dafoe and Lily Rose Depp that took the story into new territory and away from the countless cheesy 'pain in the neck' remakes over the years (such as "Interview With a Vampire" with Tom Cruise....ugh!). Last year saw the release on Luc Besson's amazing version of the Dracula saga with an actor who was not known to me- Caleb Landry Jones (although he was in "X-Men", "Get Out" and "The Outpost" to name a few) so he's got skills but his take here on the title character is like none I have ever seen before. His intensity and insanity as the centuries pass is something to behold. The film actually opens up with Prince Vladimir receiving his blessing from the church and he wants the Bishop to promise that his wife will not be hurt while he is away. Prince Vladimir then goes onto decimate an Ottoman army on the battlefield-these medieval battle scenes are amazing and the armour Vladimir and his army wears is so fn cool. After the murder of his wife by the Ottomans Prince Vladimir of Wallachia renounces God and becomes Dracula. Over the centuries, Dracula goes on a quest to find the reincarnation of his wife, using vampiric agents to assist in his search and developing a perfume designed to lure women to him. That part may sound a bit cheesy but it's done to perfection here. All in all this is a great movie, thanks mostly to the lead actor and the look and feel of the film.

The Tasty Sandwiches

My mother's sister Lil lived in New Waterford and my mother went to visit her about once a month. We took the bus and this was always a little treat as my mother took a small sandwich or cookies to keep me quiet.

On this particular day, we sat down to a lunch of sandwiches and lemonade. My mother remarked on the tasty sandwiches. Besides Lil and her husband, Lil's brother Frank lived with them.

I loved going to visit because Frank had three hound dogs he used for rabbit hunting and I got to play with them.

Frank was cleaning up the dog dish when Lil said, "You didn't use all that big can of dog food did you Frank?" Well, I used half a can to feed the dogs and the other half to make the sandwiches."

I saw my mother turn white. I thought for a moment and figured that if it didn't hurt the dogs, it wasn't going to hurt me any,

After that visit, my mother made sure that Frank didn't prepare any of the lunches. "Oh, the saints preserve us," she muttered.

Lost In Cape Breton

A U.S. couple were vacationing in Cape Breton and as they left the Causeway they got a little lost. The man's wife suggested he pull over and ask a man standing by the roadside for some directions. "Excuse me sir but could you tell us where we are?"

"Whycocomagh" answers the Cape Bretoner.

"Well, could you tell me where that road leads to?" "Mabou" was the Caper's reply.

"Well, what's the name of the next town?" asked the visitor.

"Baddeck" was the reply.

As he pulled away his wife asked him, "What did he say?" The puzzled American looked at his wife and said, "I don't know, he don't speak English!"

Canada Groceries & Essentials Benefit

Below is information taken directly from the CRA website and it looks like good news for combatting rising food prices.

The Government of Canada will increase the Canada Groceries and Essentials Benefit (formerly the GST/HST credit) by 25% for five years starting in July 2026.

In addition, a one-time top-up payment equal to 50% of the 2025-26 value will be issued to eligible and entitled recipients of the January 2026 payment of the GST/HST credit no later than June 2026.

- TAX TIPS 2026 -

- CLAIMING MOVING EXPENSES -

Which moving expenses are tax-deductible in 2026?

The CRA allows you to deduct reasonable costs associated with your move.

TRANSPORTATION AND STORAGE - Professional movers: Fees for hauling and packing. DIY rentals: Costs for truck rentals, trailers, and specialized equipment. Packing supplies: Boxes, tape, and protective bubble wrap. Storage services: You can claim up to 3 months of storage fees for household items, if you can't move into your new home immediately.

TRAVEL AND TEMPORARY LIVING EXPENSES - Vehicle expenses: Fuel, repairs, and tolls during the trip. Meals: Food costs for you and your household while enroute. Lodging: Hotel or Airbnb stays during the journey 15-day rule: You can claim up to 15 days of temporary meals and lodging near either your old or new residence while you wait to move in.

SELLING YOUR OLD HOME - If you own your previous home, you can deduct: Real estate commissions: Often the largest deductible expense. Legal/notary fees: Costs associated with the sale. Mortgage penavacant home maintenance: Up to $5,000 for interest, property taxes, insurance, and utilities paid while your old home was empty and being actively marketed for sale.

ncidentals and administrative costs - Legal fees & land transfer tax: For the purchase of your new home (provided you sold your old one). Utility connections: Hook-ups at the new place and disconnections at the old one. Address updates: Fees for changing your address on legal documents, driver's licenses, and vehicle permits.

LEASE CANCELLATION - If you were renting, any costs incurred to break your lease at your old residence are fully deductible. The carry-forward rule: If your total moving expenses exceed the income you earned at your new location in 2025, don't worry. You don't lose that money; you can carry forward the remaining balance to deduct against future income earned at that same location.

THIS WEEK'S FUNNY SIGN

The Remote Control Incident

In the early days of television, the remote control was a great invention. Prior to this, you had to get up and go to the television to change the channel.

We got our father a remote control for Christmas and it was his prized possession. He was a great Maple Leafs fan and never missed a hockey game.

My brother and I, always on the lookout for a practical joke, went and got an identical remote control and waited until Saturday night and Hockey Night In Canada came on with the weekly game.

We would wait until the Leafs were on a scoring play and flick the TV to another channel. This went on for two periods and my Dad's patience was wearing thin.

My brother and I were laughing hysterically and finally my father caught us with the remote. We thought we were in for a punishment but my father simply said, "Hey, that was a great joke, now give me that remote so it doesn't happen again"

We gave up the remote. Next Saturday, we were all seated around the TV watching the Leafs play the hated Canadiens. Halfway through the period Dad got up and went outdoors.

We wondered what he was up to as he never missed the Leafs playing. We went to check on him and there he was, just by our neighbour's fence with the remote and changing the channel on our neighbor's TV and laughing at his angry response.
