NEW DECOMPRESSION TABLE RELIEVES PAIN

Darren Strong from Strong Chiropractic, announces a new, sophisticated computerized decompression table that allows the spine to be gently stretched and relaxed for spinal decompression therapy.

The pattern of alternating pulling and relaxing creates vacuum-like pressure which allows disc material that was herniated or protruded to be pulled back in the disc over time.

Patients will notice a reduction of their pain during these treatment sessions. Stop in today and ask about the new table and how you can benefit.

Take 2

PAUL POWER

This week's column is a rewind to October 2023: before Ed Sheeran there was James Blunt. I write that for a number of reasons; they are friends, Ed is godfather to one of James's sons, Ed and James did some amazing performances together and this album, 'Who We Used to Be', sounds so much like an Ed Sheeran album that you might be tempted to check who's name is on the cover. Blunt is not copying Sheeran because Blunt released Sheeran-like songs almost a decade before Ed was even in the picture. There's a nice balanced tempo of songs here as some are dance numbers and some will elicit a tear or two (remember James's 'Monsters' music video?) and that happens most with the beautiful song 'The Girl That Never Was'. It's about his wife's miscarriage, and imagining what could have been having picked out a baby name and knowing the sex. The amazing dance-oriented tracks 'Some Kind Of Beautiful' and 'Beside You' are great. That EDM vibe continues on 'Cold

Shoulder' and 'I Won't Die With You' (which sounds so much like Ed Sheeran that's it's eerie). James wrote the song 'Dark Thought' about visiting his friend Carrie Fisher's house after she had passed away. They met in England in 2003, and he lived in Fisher's house in Los Angeles after he moved there to record 'Back to Bedlam' in 2004. Carrie had spoken before on how close they became, and she was godmother to James's oldest son. The band Keane gets a sonic nod on the great song 'All The Love That I Ever Needed' and 'Glow' shadows Mr. Sheeran 100%. On the deluxe version of this album there are 4 extra tracks-and the last one, 'When You're Gone', is phenomenal. This is an album that once again reminds us just how awesome James Blunt really is.

- TAX TIPS 2026 -

TOP SMALL BUSINESS TAX DEDUCTIONS

HOME OFFICE EXPENSES - If you use part of your home regularly and primarily for business, you can deduct a portion of home expenses including rent or mortgage interest, property taxes, utilities, home insurance, and internet costs. The deductible percentage is based on the square footage of your workspace relative to your total home area.

For 2026, the CRA continues to allow the simplified flat-rate deduction of up to $500 for qualifying home-based business owners who prefer not to track detailed receipts.

VEHICLE EXPENSES - Business-related vehicle costs are deductible based on the percentage of total kilometers driven for business purposes. Eligible costs include fuel, insurance, maintenance, lease payments, and parking.

You must keep a detailed mileage logbook recording the date, destination, purpose, and kilometers for every business trip. Without a proper mileage log, CRA will disallow vehicle claims entirely during a review.

SALARIES, WAGES, AND OWNER COMPENSATION - All salaries and wages paid to employees are fully deductible business expenses. For incorporated business owners, paying yourself a reasonable salary creates RRSP contribution room and is deductible from corporate income — an important strategic consideration.

Paying a reasonable salary to a spouse or adult children who genuinely work in the business is also deductible and serves as an effective income-splitting strategy that reduces your family's overall tax burden.

ADVERTISING AND MARKETING COSTS - Every dollar spent promoting your business to Canadian customers is deductible. This includes Google Ads, social media advertising, website design and hosting, business cards, print advertising, signage, and promotional materials.

PROFESSIONAL FEES AND BUSINESS SERVICES - Accounting fees, legal fees, consulting fees, and other professional service costs directly related to earning business income are fully deductible. This means the cost of hiring a professional tax accountant in Toronto is itself a deductible business expense.

Capital Cost Allowance (CCA) - When your business purchases equipment, computers, machinery, vehicles, or other capital assets, you cannot deduct the full cost immediately. Instead, CRA allows you to claim a portion of the cost each year through Capital Cost Allowance at rates specific to each asset class.

WEEKLY SMILE

The Early Bird Gets The Worm

I found out on one of my jogs around Ashby that a new housing group was being built on Cartier Street. There was going to be 10 new houses built.

At that time most homes had white picket fences around them. I went to the Credit Union and took out $200 of my savings which was a lot in the early 60s.

I then went down to Chappells and Stephens Building Supplies and bought up all the pickets they had. I knew that they didn't make pickets in the Summer because the staff were on rotating vacation and pickets were a time consumng task so they only made them in the Winter when things were slow.

My original idea was to go those new houses when they were ready to have fencing and sell the pickets at a profit. One day a man in a big truck knocked on our door and asked my mother if she knew who had all the pickets.

She said, "Talk to Mister Rockerfeller over there," pointing to me.

The man said he needed the pickets to build the fences and would I sell them to him. I asked him how much he would pay me and I almost fell off the chair when he said a price that was double what I paid for them and I didn't have to go door to door myself.

I pocketed the money and went down to the Credit Union and deposited in my car account.
